New Delhi [India], April 2: The IIT Delhi Alumni Association (IITDAA) recently hosted a memorable event that brought together students, alumni, and faculty for a thought-provoking dialogue with Acharya Prashant.

A former student of IIT Delhi and IIM Ahmedabad, Acharya Prashant is a modern Vedanta scholar, philosopher, and prolific author with over 160 books to his name, published by leading houses like Penguin and HarperCollins.

The evening was a rare opportunity for the IIT Delhi community to engage with his profound teachings, blending timeless wisdom with the pressing issues of our times.

The event began with a warm welcome and a heartfelt accolade by Dr. Maneesh Jaiswal, President of IITDAA, setting the stage for an evening filled with deep conversations.

Over the course of more than six hours, Acharya Prashant explored a wide range of thought-provoking topics. He delved into issues like the nuances of free speech, the ethical dilemmas posed by artificial intelligence, delimitation, the looming threat of climate change, and the relentless growth of consumerism.

His insights on these topics provoked deep thought among attendees. Students, faculty, and alumni alike were captivated by his ability to take complex philosophical ideas and make them accessible, relevant, and applicable to today's world.

The evening took a special turn when it was announced that Doordarshan (Prasar Bharati), India's largest public broadcaster, will soon air a daily program featuring Acharya Prashant's teachings.

This new initiative is a wonderful opportunity to bring his insightful blend of Vedantic wisdom and its relevance to today's world to millions of viewers across the country. It's set to make his profound perspectives more accessible to a wider audience, touching lives far and wide.

The event also reaffirmed IITDAA's commitment to promoting intellectual growth and holistic development within the IIT Delhi community.
